

MindCare Analytics

An empathetic NLP tool for early detection of depressive linguistic patterns.

How are you feeling? / Paste chat context below:

Today I am very happy

Analyze Text

Analysis Results

Result: No Strong Indicators

Model Confidence

5.4%

The text does not show significant statistical signs of depressive patterns.

⚠️ Disclaimer: This application is a machine learning experiment intended for educational purposes only. It is not a clinical diagnostic tool. If you or someone you know is struggling, please reach out to a professional mental health service.